NEW BOOKS—NOW READY.

A MOST INTERESTING BOOK.

LIFE AND TRAVEL IN INDIA.

By ANNA HARRIETTE LEONOWENS, author of "The English Governess at the Siamese Court," and "The Romance of the Harem." Crown 8vo., cloth extra, black and gold, $2.50.

The reader will find the book a treasure-mine of picturesque descriptions of out-of-the-way places in India; charmingly interwoven with many a bit of Indian story; with a just and keen appreciation of the vitality of these strange scenes; and a genuine sympathy with that great Indo-European branch of our race, which go far to prove the author to be an intelligent, candid, and sympathetic observer.

A NEW BOOK FOR GIRLS.

DORIS AND THEODORA.

By MARGARET VANDEGRIFT, author of "The Queen's Body Guard," "Clover Beach," "Holidays at Home," etc. A book for girls. Uniform with "Dr. Gilbert's Daughters." 12mo, cloth extra, brown and gold, $1.50. With four original illustrations by Geo. G. White.

There are so few good writers of books for girls, that when a really good work of this kind does appear it is something of an event in the book trade.

One year ago we published "The Queen's Body-Guard," which had a deservedly large sale, and now we have the pleasure of bringing out, uniform with it, by the same author, "Doris and Theodora," a story for girls. Knowing her abilities, and her innate knowledge of childhood's feelings and sympathies, we believe that in this charming volume her merits will be thoroughly recognized, and that this book will become as great a favorite with the class for whom it is designed as its predecessor was.

A NEW BOOK FOR BOYS.

THE LOST-TRAIL.

By EDWARD S. ELLIS, author of "Ned in the Woods," "Ned in the Block House," "Ned on the River." Being the first volume of the "Log Cabin Series." Illustrated. 16mo, cloth extra, black and gold, $1.25.

This charming story breathes the very spirit of the woods. Abounding with stirring incident and adventure, it is sure to captivate the reader by its graphic pictures of life in the western wilderness a hundred years ago. Like the works of Cooper, it is marked by a delicate fancy and pure morality which make it one of the best works to place in the hands of the rising generation.

LARGE PAPER EDITION.

INGOLDSBY LEGENDS.

By RICHARD HARRIS BURHAM (Thomas Ingoldsby, Esq.), printed on the finest Holland paper, illustrated with numerous engravings and etchings. Royal 8vo, $7.50; also bound in 2 vols., $8.

The edition is strictly limited to 450 copies, each one numbered. In paper, printing, binding and entire mechanical execution the greatest care has been taken to achieve perfection, if that were possible; and the publishers believe that the Large Paper Edition of Ingoldsby Legends is a credit to American book-making.

Ready March 1st:

A Man of Destiny.

LETTERS TO A PRESIDENT-ELECT. BY SIVA. 12mo, Cloth, $1; Paper Covers, 50 cents.

Since the days of the famous "Letters of Junius," few writings have commanded so much attention as these Letters of Siva to a President-Elect. For masterly grasp of the subjects discussed, for keen and subtle satire, for an exhaustive survey of the whole political situation, they stand unmatched in the political literature of this generation. Much curiosity has been manifested concerning their authorship, and the common question of to-day is, "Who is Siva?" The most thoughtful readers are at a loss for an answer. These letters have been ascribed in turn to the Hon. J. G. Blaine, Hon. W. M. Evarts, Hon. Roscoe Conkling, Col. R. G. Ingersoll, Judge Tourgee, Hon. E. B. Washburne, Charles A. Dana, Hon. Emery A. Storrs, "Gail Hamilton," D. R. Locke, General Grant, Gen. B. M. Prentiss, Margaret Sullivan, James Ridpath, and other distinguished persons. This fact alone is evidence of their remarkable character. There can be no doubt that these "Letters of Siva" are destined to exert a great influence throughout the whole land.

"Germinal."

BY EMILE ZOLA, Author of "Nana," "L'Assomoir," etc. Printed from advance sheets, by arrangement with the author. Illustrated Frontispiece by TRUE WILLIAMS. 12mo. Cloth, black and gold, $1; Paper Cover, 50 cents.

"GERMINAL," the latest work of the distinguished Zola, is without doubt the most masterly effort of his genius. Its descriptions of character are startlingly life-like and vivid. It deals with the dreadful condition of the miners in the coal mines of France. The struggle for a miserable existence on the part of the Maheu family is wrought out in horrible detail. The hero of the story, Etienne, captivates the reader's attention from the outset; his speeches in the moonlit forest near Montson are thrilling in the extreme, while the whole story of the revolt of the workmen is a study especially appropriate to these unsettled times.

Shadowed to Europe:

A CHICAGO DETECTIVE ON TWO CONTINENTS. Mooney & Boland's Detective Stories. 16 full-page illustrations by TRUE WILLIAMS. 12mo. Cloth, $1; Paper Cover, 50 cents

This record of the chase from Chicago to Spain after one of the most accomplished swindlers of modern times, is full of exciting interest from first to last. The story being founded on fact, is much more wonderful than any creation of the imagination. The descriptions of character are as graphic as they are true. The theory of Mr. Mooney, that a swindler invariably leaves some trace of his misdoings, and is sure sooner or later to be run down, is carried out in the remarkable plots and counterplots of this story. "SHADOWED TO EUROPE" shows, more than any detective story ever written, how the ceaseless vigilance of a cool and level-headed detective is more than a match for the most cunning swindler. This work is founded on the records of the Mooney & Boland Detective Agency, whose effective operations are known all over the country.

Also the Ninth Edition Now Ready.

Poems of Passion.

BY ELLA WHEELER. The most salable Book of Poems issued this century. Square 16mo, Cloth. Price, $1.

"Miss Wheeler evidently has 'the courage of her opinions.' Her verse is always thoughtful, often animated with a true poetic instinct, and made beautiful by felicitous fancy. It is always melodious."—Chicago Times.

"A woman who speaks as strongly and purely as she cannot help doing good, and the marvel is that the public have waited so long for a volume of her poems. It is a tame age that does not want its poor heart stirred."—Philadelphia Times.

"This collection gives us the ripe fruitage of her genius, and proudly justifies the claim of her friends for a high rank amongst American poets."—St. Paul Daily Dispatch.

PUBLISH THIS WEEK.

Through Masai Land.

A Narrative of the Royal Geographical Society's Expedition in Eastern Africa. By JOSEPH THOMSON F.R.G.S., author of "To the Central African Lakes and Back." Illustrated. 1 vol., 8vo, $5.00.

The London Times calls Mr. Thomson the Mark Tapley of African explorers, and says that it would be difficult to find another man who could have gone through what Mr. Thomson has done, and have come out of it alive, and with stainless hands. The book is a narrative of an attempt to discover if a practicable direct route for European travelers existed through the Masai country from any one of the East African ports to Victoria Nyanza; but its interest for the reader is also in the splendid example it gives of an explorer's courage, quick-wittedness and resources. "So far as novelty is concerned," says the London Times, "we have had nothing from Africa to compare with the present volume since the publication of Mr. Stanley's 'Through the Dark Continent.'"

Paradise Found.

THE CRADLE OF THE HUMAN RACE AT THE NORTH POLE. A Study of the Pre-historic World. By WILLIAM F. WARREN, S.T.D., LL.D., President of Boston University. With Original Illustrations and Charts. 1 vol., 8vo, $2.00.

Dr. Warren is confident that he has succeeded in solving the problem where the human race originated, or where the Garden of Eden was. Not a few will be startled to learn that the cradle of the human race was at the North Pole, but Dr. Warren sustains this theory with a surprising array of evidence, and this in turn throws much light on the most vital of the current problems of biology, terrestrial physics, ancient cosmology, comparative mythology, primeval history, scientific anthropology, and Hebrew and Ethnic tradition. Dr. Warren has given to this work the study of many years, and writes with an enthusiasm and assurance of victory which make his volume exceedingly interesting.

A Carpet Knight.

A Novel. By HARFORD FLEMMING, author of "Cupid and the Sphinx." 1 vol., 16mo, $1.25.

This is a new society novel, which promises to attract no little attention. It gives a truthful picture of modern social life in the "good society" of a large American city, the customs and pretensions of which are not so unlike those of leading European cities as to deserve to be held up to the scorn of the world. Although the title implies a satire on the hero, the story is not satirical, but a good-humored description of the every day life of cultivated people. It is believed that the spirit and tone of this story will render it doubly acceptable to those who find themselves fascinated by its plot, incidents, and flowing narrative.

NINTH THOUSAND.

Ralph Waldo Emerson.

By OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES. With fine steel Portrait, $1.25.

"A delightful book, and one of stirring interest."—Pall Mall Gazette.

In the Lena Delta.

The Search for Commander De Long. By Chief-Engineer GEORGE W. MELVILLE, Edited by MELVILLE PHILIPS. Illustrated. $2.50.

"One of the most lively records of suffering courageously borne that can be found even in the annals of Arctic research."—Saturday Review (London).

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS

Will Publish March 10th.

OBITER DICTA.

1 vol., 16mo. With an American preface. $1.

"An 'obiter dictum,' in the language of the law, is a gratuitous opinion, an individual impertinence, which, whether it be wise or foolish, right or wrong, bindeth none—not even the lips that utter it."

OLD JUDGE.

"An eminently pleasant and companionable book. Open it where we may, we find something to entertain and stimulate, to invite meditation, and provoke reflection. This is partly due to the temper of the book, partly to the engaging simplicity of its style. The paper on Carlyle is a piece of fine and true criticism. 'A Rogue's Memoirs' is a causerie about Benvenuto Cellini conceived in a vein of fine and quaint reflection."—London Times.

INSTRUCTIONS IN RIFLE AND CARBINE FIRING.

By Captain S. E. BLUNT. 1 vol. 16mo, leather, with many illustrations and diagrams. $2, nett.

"This valuable manual has been prepared by the command of the Chief of Ordnance, U.S. Army. It is the only book on the subject thus authorized by the Government, and its great value to all members of State militia is obvious."

MEDIÆVAL CHRISTIANITY.

By Dr. PHILIP SCHAFF. Being Vol. IV. "History of the Christian Church." 8vo. $4.

"The book covers the history of the Church in the Middle Ages from Gregory I. (590) to Gregory VII. (1073), and discusses a most interesting but comparatively little known period, teeming with events of the greatest importance in the history of Christianity and civilization."

LIFE AND TIMES OF THOMAS BECKET.

By JAMES ANTHONY FROUDE. (New and cheap edition.) 1 vol., 12mo, paper 50 cents.

"This new edition of Mr. Froude's masterly sketch will be welcomed at this time, when so much attention has been attracted to the subject by Lord Tennyson's drama 'Becket,' which it is understood follows the historical narrative of Mr. Froude."

NOTES IN SEASON.

T. B. PETERSON & BROS., will shortly publish a new edition, in paper covers, of Mrs. Ann S. Stephens's, "The Reigning Belle."

E. P. DUTTON & Co., issue this week a new volume of poems by Miss Havergal; Phillips Brooks's sermons, two volumes in paper covers; and two new books for Sunday-school libraries, by C. A. Jones, entitled, "Little Ready Cry" and "Captain Dick."

DODD, MEAD & Co. announce a cheap illustrated edition of E. P. Roe's "Without a Home," uniform with "Barrier's Burned Away," and "The Opening of a Chestnut Burr," which together are said to have reached a sale of 150,000 copies. They have also in press a new story by Mrs. Amelia A. Barr, entitled "Jan Vedder's Wife," the scene of which is laid in the Shetland Islands.

THOS. R. KNOX & Co. issue this week, a new edition of Arthur Helps's "Friends in Council," which has long been out of print. It is printed on good paper, and tastefully bound in cloth, gilt tops. They will issue shortly a volume entitled "Selections from George Macdonald, or, Help for Weary Souls," compiled by Miss J. Dewey, who compiled the successful little book entitled "Helps to Devout Living."

BELFORD, CLARKE & Co. have published a work entitled "A Man of Destiny: Letters to a President-Elect," by Siva, which discusses the political situation of the future, and which, it is said, has been ascribed to a dozen or more of the most prominent writers and politicians of this country: "Germinal," Emile Zola's latest story, which is printed from advance sheets; "Shadowed to Europe, a Chicago Detective on Two Continents," said to be founded on the records of the Mooney & Boland Detective Agency; and a new edition of "Poems of Passion," by Ella Wheeler.

FUNK & WAGNALLS will publish in April a new and revised edition of "A Library of Religious Poetry," edited by Philip Schaff, D.D., and Arthur Gilman, A. M. They have in press a work on "The Stars and Constellations," by Royal Hill, described as "something wholly new, being a complete chart of the heavens, doing away with 'star maps,' and making the location of every important star and constellation easy without instruments or globes." It is intended both for private use, and for use in schools, academies and colleges. Mr. Julian Hawthorne has recently finished two stories "The Countess Almaraz's Murder," and "The Trial of Gideon." The scenes in the plot of the former are in New York City, and of the latter near the hills of Moab, in pre-historic times. Both stories will be published in one volume, shortly, by Messrs. Funk & Wagnalls.

AMONG the books which Messrs. Charles Scribner's Sons will publish during March, are new editions of Fitz-James O'Brien's stories, to be entitled "The Diamond Lens, and other tales," and George Parsons Lathrop's novel "In the Distance," both in cloth and paper covers; "American Presbyterianism: its Origin and Early Growth," by Dr. C. A. Briggs; and the tenth and final volume of the series Stories by American Authors, which will contain six tales, as follows: "Pancha," by T. A. Janvier, "The Ablest Man in the World," by E. P. Mitchell, "Young Moll's Peevy," by C. A. Stephens, "Manmat'ha," by Charles De Kay, "A Daring Fiction," by H. H. Boyesen, and "The Story of Two Lives," by Julia Schayer. An index to authors and stories will be added to this volume. The ten volumes will also be put up in a neat box. They will publish at once a cheap edition (in paper covers) of Froude's essay on "Thomas Becket," and an enlarged edition of the "Teachings of the Twelve Apostles."

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co. publish this week a book which professes to settle a question which has been discussed for thousands of years, and if the author has reached the true conclusion, as he thinks he has, it is a very remarkable work. The book is entitled "Paradise Found," and the object of it is to prove that the Garden of Eden, or the original starting-point of the human race on earth, was at the North Pole. President Warren, of Boston University, who writes the book, has made the subject a study for a long time and writes upon it with great learning and enthusiasm, and his book cannot fail to challenge attention in a very unusual degree. At the same time will appear "Through Masai Land," a new book of travel in Eastern Africa, by Joseph Thomson, author of two admirable volumes of African travel "To the Central African Lakes and Back," published two or three years since; and "A Carpet Knight," a new society novel by Harford Flemming, author of "Cupid and the Sphinx," which attracted no little attention a few years ago.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

MISS MAUD HOWE has written an interesting account of the woman's exhibit at the New Orleans Exhibition for the March number of the Domestic Monthly.

Town Topics is now the title of the weekly journal formerly issued under the title of The American Queen. It will be published by the Town Topics Pub. Co. J. B. Townsend, President, G. Wotherspoon, Jr., Secretary, F. L. Holmes, Treasurer—at 13 Park Row, N. Y.

C. DAVIS ENGLISH, of Philadelphia, begins in the Current of February 28 a consideration of "The Future of American Criticism." He severely censures "the critical laxity and independence of to-day" and holds that contemporary criticism in the United States is lacking in decisive authority.

Mind in Nature is the title of a new monthly journal devoted to the spreading of psychical, medical and scientific information to be published by the Cosmic Publishing Co., Chicago, Ill. The names of contributors represent some of the leading Western talent of the church, the bar and the medical profession, and give promise of articles of interest and scientific value.

THE Fairfax family of Yorkshire and Virginia is the subject of an illustrated paper

(by Rev. Dr. R. Wheatley,) in the March number of the Magazine of American History, one of the illustrations showing Lord Fairfax of the Cromwellian period on horseback. Richard Bellingham, the Governor of Massachusetts, who in 1641 performed his own marriage ceremony, and who is a familiar person to readers of Hawthorne's "Scarlet Letter," is the subject of another noteworthy article.

NOTES ON CATALOGUES.

JOHN DELAY, of 23 Union Square, N. Y., has published a catalogue of ancient and modern French books, comprising rare editions of the sixteenth century, books of hours, chronicles, old poetry, rare original editions of works relating to the Reformation, a copy of the Bible d'Olivet, and Durer's "Life of the Virgin."

THE law library of the late Charles O'Connor, which is to be sold by the Leavitts this month, is one of the finest ever offered in this country. The catalogue, numbering some five thousand volumes, includes nearly all Mr. O'Connor's law books, except that remarkable set lettered on their backs "My Own Cases," which he left by will to the New York Law Institute.

"Every man is a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help thereunto."—LORD BACON.

STATE SCHOOL-BOOKS.

A FEW years since there was a popular revolution against the prices charged by school-book publishers to cover the cost of the agency system then in vogue. There were many attacks directly against this system and the corruption fund it was said to involve—some of which doubtless had too much foundation. The public feeling, however, gave school-book publishers an opportunity of reforming their own system which they were not sorry to have, and were not slow to accept; but in some States the people seem, instead of meeting the publishing reform, to have jumped from the frying-pan into the fire, and permitted themselves to be made the victims of rings much more serious than any which the school-book agents themselves ever devised.

We printed recently a brief indication of the state of things in California, which had passed a law providing that school books should be published by the State, and the extract as to a similar scheme in Missouri tells an even more disgraceful story. It is almost absolutely certain that school books cannot economically be published by the States, both for the reason that they are not likely to be as good in quality as those upon which publishers have concentrated their best energies under active competition, and because any such State scheme is sure to attract the vulture and to be made the means of exorbitant profit to the people who earn it least. Doubtless there will presently be another reaction, this time in favor of legitimate school-book publishing, and if the school-book publishers themselves will but have the foresight to arrange affairs so that they can meet alike the interests of teachers, the trade, and themselves, there will be a chance for legitimate business on a sound and lasting foundation such as we have not had for a good while.

MISSOURI'S SCHOOL-BOOK RING.

[From St. Louis Dispatch in the N. Y. World.]

By virtue of an obnoxious law of Missouri, the people, who have been compelled to pay outrageous prices for school books, have been robbed during the past five years of upward of a million dollars. Several bills repealing the law of the monopolists were introduced early in this session of the Legislature. In the Senate, David A. Ball was given the Chairmanship of the Committee on Schools, to which all these bills were referred. Ball is a particular friend of ex-Gov. Crittenden. Crittenden's son, Tom, jr., is a large stockholder in a printing-office recently established in the penitentiary and run with convict labor. Ball kept in the background until the session began to near the end, when he suddenly turns up as the father of a text-book bill, which provides for the publishing of the school books for the State by the commission created by his bill at the penitentiary printing-office, so long as they would do it at a price thought reasonable by the commission. As soon as the Ball bill was well under way, the parties to the scheme, including a number of ex-State officers and a Mr. S. D. Carpenter, went to work. Carpenter called on the agent of the D. Appleton & Co. publishing house in St. Louis and proposed to him that he induce D. Appleton & Co. to purchase the right to supply Missouri with books for the next ten years.

"Now," says Mr. Carpenter, "the way we figure this thing out, we can make $500,000 out of the contract. If your house desires, we will let them in with us for half that sum, $250,000. What do you say?" The agent answered that he did not think his house would give up that much, unless the price of school books was put up higher than at present. The exposure of this scheme by a St. Louis newspaper correspondent brought Mr. Ball to his feet in the Senate to-day, when he denied the truthfulness of the exposure. While he denounced the article as false he did not explain why Gov. Crittenden has haunted the lobby for weeks; why he advocated in his last message the passage of a law like that proposed by Ball; why the penitentiary clause was inserted in his bill, nor why young Crittenden bought an interest in the penitentiary printing-office. The article has saved the State, according to Mr. Carpenter, $250,000, and has paralyzed what promised to be a gigantic school-book ring. The affair has created a sensation throughout the State.

WOMEN'S BOOKS AT THE NEW ORLEANS EXHIBITION.

A WRITER in the New Orleans Picayune in an interesting description of the literary department of the New Orleans Exhibition, gives the following glimpse of the woman's department: "Just behind the blue-and-white pavilion of the Tennessee women, and draped off with curtains, suggesting quiet and place of peaceful repose, the visitors find a long, narrow, sunny alcove, with the walls lined with low wooden shelves, and the book-shelves filled more or less compactly with books. Potted plants stand in the windows and destroy all the angles of the corners. A dainty, woman's desk fills one space, and a wide work-a-day table another. Pictures, of well-known literary women adorn the walls, and under a glass-case, as too precious to be intrusted elsewhere, are disposed a half dozen or so richly-bound volumes, some illuminated books of poems, and a lot of satin-bound and silk-befringed 'leaflets,' also a valuable and most charming collection of photographs of famous women."

The largest display of books comes from Massachusetts. The shelves contain bound volumes of most of the works of Margaret Fuller, Mrs. Clara Vance, Louise Chandler Moulton, Louisa M. Alcott, Annie Moore, Laura Nicholls, Mrs. Clara Doty Bates, A. E. Porter, Niles, Margaret Sidney, Miss Parloa, Mrs. Lincoln, Maria Oliver, L. M. Child, Anna Boyd, C. H. Dall, H. H. Robinson, Mrs. McKinstry, George Fleming, Lucy Larcom, Kate Tannatt Woods, Julia Eastman, Anna Sorrell, L. E. Poor, and Mrs. Julia Ward Howe. The Famous Women Series is present in corpore.

Not the least important feature of the library is a large reading-table, on which lie current numbers of the chief journals and magazines which are edited by women. The Critic is here, with the Woman's Journal, The Western, Frank Leslie, Harper's Bazar, and some thirty other publications of more or less importance.

It is the very earnest desire of the chief of the literary department to present the valuable library it has been her pleasure to collect to the "Library of the Ladies' Art League of New Orleans."

COPYRIGHT IN CANADA.

A DISPATCH to the N. Y. Times, dated Ottawa, February 27, states that a petition from the Toronto Board of Trade was presented to Parliament to-day setting forth that the Imperial copyright law limits the development of the Canadian book trade by restricting Canadian publishers from reprinting English works, while cheap American reprints are allowed to flood the home markets. The petition asks that Canada be allowed to legislate on the subject in accordance with her special needs, and suggests that a law should be framed allowing Canadian publishers to reprint English copyrighted works, with due recognition of the authors' rights, and providing that so long as the United States makes no reciprocal concessions in the matter of literature to Great Britain or to the British colonies, Canada shall be exempt from the respective copyright privilege granted by England to American writers who may produce their works first in England.

COMMUNICATIONS.

INTERNATIONAL COPYRIGHT AND ENGLISH AUTHORS.

BOSTON, Feb. 26, 1885.

To the Editor of the Publishers' Weekly:

CONTINUAL dropping wears away the stone, and in furtherance of international copyright we send you copies of three letters we have just received from foreign authors.

With regard to Mr. Morley's letter, we should explain that we bought of him the right to publish his "Life of Cobden," in America, and on the appearance here of an unauthorized English edition we addressed him for protection.

ROBERTS BROTHERS.

"I saw by the advertisements in American periodicals that a New York pirate had got hold of 'An Intellectual Life.' We sadly need a copyright law. It would be a benefit to all honest men, including American authors, who would be spared part of the rivalry produced by flooding the States with cheap pirated reprints.

"Yours very truly,

"P. G. HAMERTON."

"I BEG to acknowledge receipt, with my best thanks, of your check on account of your publication of works of mine" ("A Little Pilgrim" and "Old Lady Mary"). "I thank you, not for the money only, but for the honorable feeling which prompts you to send it, and to treat English writers as having something to do with their own productions. I trust your righteous example will help to form a new standard of morality among American publishers in the future.

Believe me, truly yours,

"M. O. W. OLIPHANT."

"I AM in no way responsible for the dispatch of the cheap edition of my book on 'Cobden, to the United States. I have had no dealings with the publishers for upward of two years. They knew every detail of my arrangement with you when they purchased the copyright of the book for a term of years. If you have lost any money by your bargain with me in consequence of the proceedings of which you complain, I shall be glad to know the details, and I will do whatever may be in my power to put you right.

"Yours faithfully,

JOHN MORLEY."

ABUSE OF THE "BOOKS WANTED" DEPARTMENT.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 25, 1885.

To the Editor of the Publishers' Weekly:

I HAVE been of the opinion for a long time that your column of "Books Wanted" should be restricted to "Books O. P." The column of "Books Wanted" frequently contains wants of books which may be had by writing to the publishers. There is one house in New York whose inquiries I have answered very often and never received an order, because, I suppose, the books are easily obtained. Why not erase from the list books in print, unless the advertisement is paid for. This would save time, labor, and postage.

Respectfully,

J. C. EYRICH.

[It is our intention to do this, but titles of the kind mentioned sometimes escape us.—ED. P. W.]

OBITUARY.

WESLEY JONES.

WESLEY JONES died Feb. 23, at his residence in Burlington, Iowa. He was born Feb. 11, 1840, in Springfield, O. He was early thrown upon his own resources, and after a necessarily limited attendance at schools, he worked awhile for the Hawkeye as carrier and compositor, and afterward became a clerk for J. O. H. Postlewaite, continuing in this capacity with his successors, Garrett, Rhodes & Co. He was next employed for some years as travelling salesman for J. S. Kimball & Co., a large wholesale firm of Burlington, and on the suggestion of his brother, Samuel H., who was then engaged in mercantile business in Denver, he went West and took stocks of merchandise to Virginia City and other mining towns then springing up in that region. After several successful ventures in that region he returned to Burlington in 1866, and purchased the book-store of J. L. Corse, which he enlarged and developed into a store of no small importance. The business was continued at the same place, until a destructive fire a few years ago necessitated removal to 310 North Main Street, where the business is now located.

FRANCIS SAMUEL DRAKE.

FRANCIS S. DRAKE died suddenly at Washington on the 22d ult. He was the oldest son of the well-known historical and antiquarian writer, Samuel Gardner Drake, of Boston, and was born at Northwood, N. H., in 1828. He was educated in the public schools of Boston until he went into his father's bookstore, which was at that time one of the best-known in New England. After several years' service there he entered the counting-room of Rice, Kendall & Co., with whom he remained until 1862, when he went to Leavenworth, Kansas, in order to engage in the book-selling business already established by one of his brothers. At the end of five years he went back to Boston, and had since been engaged in the literary work through which he had become known as a careful, conscientious writer on all subjects on which his busy pen had been employed. In 1872 he brought out his "Dictionary of American Biography," to the preparation of which he had given nearly twenty years of diligent and painstaking research. His later works are a "Memorial Volume of the Massachusetts Society of the Cincinnati," a "Life of General Henry Knox," a "History of Roxbury" and an "Indian History for Young Folks." He had also edited a new edition of Schoolcraft's "History of the Indians," to which he added much original matter. He had been a contributor to various periodicals as well as to the "Memorial History of Boston," and at the time of his death was revising his "Dictionary of Biography," which is perhaps the work by which he is most widely and favorably known. Mr. Drake leaves a widow and one child.

BUSINESS NOTES.

CHICAGO, ILL.—The stock of McDonnell Brothers, 113 Dearborn Street, subscription bookseller, was completely destroyed by fire. The private books, letters, etc., were saved: their loss is fully covered by insurance. They write us that they are ready for business, however, at 77 State St., and will fill all orders as promptly as possible.

NEW YORK CITY.—Clark & Maynard, publishers and booksellers, have removed from 734 Broadway to the corner of Ninth Street and Broadway.

NEW YORK CITY.—The good-will and business of Jesse Haney & Co. conducted for the last twenty years on Nassau and Spruce sts. has been transferred to the Excelsior Publishing House, 29 and 31 Beekman St., which will continue the business in conjunction with its own publications. The specialties of Jesse Haney & Co., their "Trade Manual," "Useful Handbooks," and miscellaneous publications, will be issued substantially as before, being revised from time to time to keep them up to the times.

RICHMOND, VA.—B. B. French, dealer in books and stationery, is dead.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

PROF. F. W. TAUSSIG, of Harvard, has published a "History of the Tariff from 1860 to 1883."

IG. KOHLER, Phila., will issue in May a collection of poems by Karl Gerok, entitled "Der Letzte Strauss."

N. PONCE DE LEON, 42 Broadway, N. Y., has published Part II of the English-Spanish Technological Dictionary, which carries this work along to the word "Ply."

"GIVE A DOG A BAD NAME" is the title of a novel by the author of "The House on the Marsh," just published in London. This novel has already been published here in Appleton's new Twenty-five-cent series, under the title of "Deldee, or, the Iron Hand."

V. G. FISCHER, of Washington, was awarded the contract of engraving and furnishing the admittance cards, invitation, and ball programmes for the Inauguration Ball. Judging from the proof of the invitation card and the programme sent us, Mr. Fischer has performed the work with a great deal of taste and artistic finish.

WHITE, STOKES & ALLEN have issued a neat edition of Winthrop Mackworth Praed's "Poems," with a memoir by the late Rev. Derwent Coleridge. They have also just ready a silk-fringed booklet, entitled "Birthday Flowers," containing six chromo-lithographic flower groups with appropriate poetical quotations arranged by Miss Susie B. Skelding.

J. S. Ogilvie & Co. have issued Number Fifteen of Ogilvie's Popular Reading, containing the following six stories: "Fated to Marry," by May Agnes Fleming; "A Night of Horror," "Mad to Get Married," by the author of "Dora Thorne;" "Two Strings to Her Bow," "Dorothy's Venture," by Mary Cecil Hay; and "Harry Pinkerton, the Detective," by Harry Rockwood.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS have in press an anonymous novel entitled "Across the Chasm," as to which expectation has been raised quite high; a pamphlet by Dr. James McCosh on "The New Departure in College Education," which is a reply to President Eliot's recent defence of the departure; also, a work entitled "Two Years in the Jungle," by W. T. Hornaday, the naturalist and traveller.

CHARLES L. WEBSTER & Co., 42 E. 14th St., N. Y., have been engaged by General Grant to publish his forthcoming book entitled "Personal Reminiscences." "The book" says the N. Y. Tribune "is in two volumes of about five hundred pages each, and is to be sold only by subscription. The manuscript of the first volume is ready for the press and will be issued soon. General Grant is engaged every day upon the second volume, which is well advanced toward completion."

ROBERT CLARKE & Co. will publish this month a little book entitled "How to Play Progressive Euchre," by Will T. Irwin, of Cincinnati. It will give hints as to "How to Give a Party," on "Invitations," "Partners and Places," "Names and Number of Tables," "Badges and Prizes," "Scoring and Score Sheets," "How to Play the Game," also "Rules Progressive Euchre," "Laws of Euchre," "Valuable Pointers for Players," "How to Win Prizes," and "Hints to the Hostess."

OWEN MEREDITH (Lord Lytton) will shortly publish a new narrative poem, somewhat of the character of "Lucile," under the title of "Glen-averie, or, the Metamorphosis." The story is said to be entirely modern, with a stirring narrative interest, and will contain some parliamentary portraits of contemporary English statesmen, as well as sketches of modern London life. It will be published in six monthly parts by John Murray, and the American edition by arrangement with the author by D. Appleton & Co. The first number will appear in March.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS have issued the first volume of Henry Cabot Lodge's edition of the works of Hamilton, which, when completed, will form nine volumes. The edition is beautifully printed from type, and is limited to 520 sets. Twenty of the sets have been set apart for the press, but instead of being numbered these will be lettered. They have under way a book by Mr. Theodore Roosevelt giving an account of a ranchman's trip in chase of large game in the northern cattle region. The first edition will be a limited one of 500 copies, printed on large paper. The volume will be illustrated.

E. & F. N. SPON have added to their already long list of works on applied mechanics, "The Fireman's Guide," a handbook on the care of boilers, translated from the Swedish by Karl Dahlstrom; "A Practical Treatise on Warming Buildings by Hot Water, Steam, Hot Air, etc.," to which is added an inquiry into the laws of radiant and conducted heat, the chemical constitution of coal and the combustion of smoke, by Charles Hood; "Land Surveying on the Meridian and Perpendicular System," by William Penman; "Modern Shipbuilding and the Men Engaged in It," by David Pollock, with portraits and biographic notes of eminent shipowners, shipbuilders, engineers and naval architects, and also views of notable ships: Spon's "Mechanics' Own Book for Handicraftsmen and Amateurs;" "Water Supply: the Present Practice of Sinking and Boring Wells," by Ernest Spon, with geological considerations and examples of wells executed; and volume 54 of the "Journal" of the Society of Telegraph-Engineers and Electricians.

SCIENCE AND LITERATURE OF NATURAL HISTORY. For School and Home. Price $1.15.

By Prof. JAMES JOHONNOT,

Author of "Principles and Practice of Teaching," "Geographical Reader," "How we Live," etc.

The design of the Natural History Series is to furnish a graded course of reading for supplementary use of an especially instructive character, and in a form attractive and interesting to the young. Instead of the monotonous and dismal drill-work in reading, so wearying to the child and trying to the teacher. These books tend to enlist that most important auxiliary to good instruction, the active interest and attention of the pupil; and the result will be twofold—the acquisition of facility in reading, and the attainment of useful knowledge.

Battle of the Books

The WATERLOO of The LITERARY Revolution was supposed to have been met about three years ago. The merry millionaire-publisher laughed and said "I told you so," and dreamed of the return of old-time prices—$8.00 for books the Revolution had given for 50 cents. There was a hard battle, but it proved to be a BUNKER HILL instead of a "Waterloo."

was transformed to victory. To-day the Revolution has a larger catalogue (100 pages, crowded) of better books at lower prices than ever before. The few titles here named are only specimens. FRANCE Guizot's Celebrated Illustrated History of France we have reduced in price, from $49.50 to as low as $5.00.

We publish two editions, one in eight volumes, small octavo, with 426 fine illustrations, price, $8.00; the other in eight volumes, 12mo., with 64 illustrations, price, $5.00—this The Christian at Work pronounces "A marvel of excellence in every respect, at a marvel of cheapness."

SPAIN Prescott's Great Work, History of the Reign of Ferdinand and Isabella, we issue in two elegant volumes, small octavo, illustrated, price $2.00, also in one volume, 12mo., price, $1.25. A timely and excellent work, reduced in cost from $15.00 to $1.00, is Kenrick's History of Ancient Egypt under the Pharaohs. Also, the Life of Forbes, price, 50 cents. We also publish in five charming Elzevir volumes price only $1.75, Green's Larger

We also issue Hume's England, six large octavo volumes, library style, gilt tops, price $6.00, and the same bound in three vols., half Russia for $4.50. We have, too, Macaulay's England, three vols., small 12mo., for $1.60, and Dickens's Child's History of England, price 45 cents. One of the greatest historical works published is Raukinson's Seven Great Monarchies of the Ancient Eastern World. This we have reduced in cost from $18 to $3.00, though ours is really a better edition than the one sold at the higher price. It is in three vols., large 12mo., cloth, gilt tops, containing over 700 illustrations and maps.

ROME with Milman's Notes we issue in five volumes, small 12mo., for $2.25. These represent only a portion of our Historical publications. To know what The Literary Revolution is doing you need to see its immense catalogue and read the enthusiastic words of its patrons—but better than all, see the books themselves.

Books ordered by mail require 20 per cent. of list price extra for prepayment of charges.

THE LIFE OF Abraham Lincoln,

By the Hon. ISAAC N. ARNOLD.

Large 8vo Volume, 462 Pages, with Portrait. Price $2.50

"It is the only life of Lincoln thus far published that is likely to live; the only one that has any serious pretensions to depict him with adequate veracity, completeness, and dignity."—New York Sun.

"Mr. Arnold succeeded to a singular extent in assuming the broad view and judicious voice of posterity and exhibiting the greatest figure of our time in its true perspective."—New York Tribune.

"The completeness of this work in respect to its facts, its criticisms, and its estimates of character would seem to have fulfilled all the requirements of a perfect life of Lincoln, and to have left nothing more for future biographers to do with the subject."—Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

"The style is simple, easy, clear; there is no attempt made at fulsome laudation, no heaping of meaningless epithets; but there is a lucidity in the narrative, and such an apparent forbearance of effort to exaggerate, such an evident painstaking to allow the story to tell itself, that the result is that the figure of Lincoln rises lifelike and impressive before us. The work is a scholarly, philosophical treatise on the true position, the words, the deeds, the far-seeing statesmanship, the consistent policy of Lincoln. Its value is very great, and its excellences unequalled by any life of Lincoln heretofore published."—Times, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Book-Lover.

A GUIDE TO THE BEST READING.

By JAMES BALDWIN, Ph.D. 16mo, gilt top, 202 pages. Price $1.25.

"Crowded with thought and valuable information. It is a practical answer to the question 'What shall I read?' "—Cincinnati Com'l Gazette.

"Mr. Baldwin has written in this monograph a delightful eulogium of books and their manifold influence, and has gained therein two classes of readers—the scholarly class, to which he belongs, and the receptive class which he has benefited. The Book-Lover is compact with suggestions and wisdom."—Mail and Express, N. Y.

The Shadow of the War.

A TALE OF RECONSTRUCTION TIMES.

Price $1.25.

"It cannot fail to be of service in bringing about a better understanding of Southern life."—News and Courier, Charleston, S. C.

"There is power in it, and there is humor and pathos, and there is not, so far as we have observed the least political animosity."—Mail and Express, N. Y.

"Written with an impartiality which suggests the dawn of an era when the whole disgraceful period of reconstruction can be treated dispassionately."—The Nation.
